QOMO HiteVision Joins ASCREEN Engineering in Russia to Exhibit at ISR 2008

Wixom, MI September 29, 2008 — QOMO HiteVision will be exhibiting at Integrated Systems Russia 2008 (ISR), October 30 – November 1 in Moscow.

As a company committed to innovation, leadership, and customer satisfaction, QOMO HiteVision manufactures high quality presentation products and offers these great products at the lowest possible prices.

Joining QOMO at the ISR this year is one of QOMO's main distributors, ASCREEN Engineering, located in St. Petersburg, Russia. The company has extensive experience designing integrated classroom solutions, meeting rooms, movement control centers, and conference halls. ASCREEN Engineering provides customers with the most effective integrated solutions to meet the needs of facilities at any level of complexity.

QOMO HiteVision will be presenting their award winning Prodigy RF Wireless Tablet, as well as their desktop and portable versions of QOMO's QView document cameras- the most powerful presentation tools. A signature piece at the show will be QOMO's interactive whiteboard. They will also be showcasing the QClick Audience Response/Voting System and of course, their robust QoVision digital signage software system.

To learn more about the products, please visit QOMO at booth 1-125, Hall 1 this year at the Integrated Systems Russia 2008 show.
