QOMO TO RELEASE THE NEXT GENERATION IN DOCUMENT CAMERAS

WIXOM, Michigan--May 4, 2010--QOMO is proud to introduce the next generation of full size document cameras with the QD8000. The QD8000 offers high quality images, HDMI connectivity, touch sensitive controls, and a full color LCD onboard monitor all in a sleek low profile design.

The HDMI output allows the QD8000 to be connected to virtually any high definition display giving users even more versatility and connection possibilities. The new touch sensitive controls put the full range of the document camera controls literally at your fingertips! The onboard LCD monitor is an innovative feature that allows the presenter to see exactly what is being projected without having to turn their back to the audience. All of these new features have been implemented while creating an even slimmer, lower-profile and more compact design.

QOMO HiteVision is an energetic, innovative and visionary global manufacturer. We offer a diverse line of products including document cameras, interactive whiteboards and tablets, audience response systems, and digital signage.

With headquarters based in the US, QOMO HiteVision is dedicated to meeting you technology and presentation needs. QOMO derives from Qomolangma, the word for Mount Everest, the highest place on earth. We aspire to take our customers to new heights.

The future is clear and the summit attainable!
